

GRANDPA BOWLERS ROLL BROOKLYN MATCH TO-DAY

Four, Whose Ages Average Seventy Years, Meet in Team Series.

Do you think you will be able to roll a 100 in a series of games when seventy years of age?

There are four bowlers of this age in the Greater City who can do this little stunt, and they have been matched in a team series—New York vs. Brooklyn—to roll a home and home contest, the first series being rolled in Brooklyn this afternoon. Of course, there will be a big crowd out to see the games. It will be a match worth seeing.

C. Hulle, is the veteran of the quartette, and his age is seventy-seven years. He is a hardy German of the old school athletes, and probably the best bowler of his age in the world. Last season at the Monarch Palace alleys this old gentleman defeated a field of fourteen competitors in the veterans' tournament for the individual championship of Greater New York, his average being 131 for about thirty-five games. He also won the high-score title with 28.

The team-mate of Hulle is a young fellow, Patrick Loughman, sixty-four years of age, and a crack roller in the Kings of Columbus tournament at the White Elephant. He is good for an average around 125 to 130.

Herman Caddis, of the Monarch Palace alleys, who organized this team, left a challenge with one bowling world to-day for a team match contest with any pair of equal age in the United States for $20 a side, or Caddis will back Loughman against any bowler of 70 years in an individual contest for the same amount.

In the match to-day the Brooklyn team will be "Pop" Mehl and J. Dains, who are well known about the University and other alleys in that borough as crack bowlers. Mehl, as in the case of the Manhattan team, is the oldest of the best men of the team. When this veteran of nearly seventy years of age gets out on the alleys with those of half his age and bears the brunt in open games, as he frequently does, the Brooklyn fans declare that he has no equal on earth.

Dains is an erratic bowler, but of fair quality for a sixty-year-old man. He is a fan of the game, and carries his scores around in his pockets like a dope head at the race track, although he never ever seen the original sheets. He may make good in this contest, however.

AMPHION AND ALBION STARS IN MATCH GAME.

The return match game between Jimmy Smith and Jimmie Watt, of the Albion, and Harry Herberg and Larry Staudt, of the Amphion, Brooklyn, will be rolled Sunday at 3 P. M. at the Albion, Twenty-third street, near Third avenue. In the first series of the Amphion and match games that followed Watt averaged 22 for twelve games.

A home and home match game series has been arranged between Billy Cordt and Otto Helms, of the Grand Central, Brooklyn, and Harry Herberg and Larry Staudt, of the Amphion. The first series will be rolled at the Amphion, Brooklyn, Tuesday, Dec. 13. There is a side stake of $50.

A very interesting match contest of two men teams, composed of S. J. Brierley and Francis Crave, Hamilton Bank, Tremont branch, and J. Leirness and A. E. Briggs, Bronx Borough Bank, will be rolled Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Palace Alley, Bedford Park, New York.

Results of match games, as well as announcements, will be printed in these columns. Address: Bowling Editor, Evening World, Park Row, New York.

Herman Caddis, of the Monarch Palace, and Mrs. Nellie Leizer, roll the first half of a home and home match game series of best four out of seven games with Billy Caddis and Mrs. Leizer, of Newark, at the Monarch Palace, Twenty-sixth street and Sixth avenue, Sunday, at 7 P. M.

Joe Hall, the crack bowler of the Belmer B. C., and representative of the Riverside Alleys in the Greater New York Individual Championship, and Eddie Pope, a star at the Universal Alley, Brooklyn, and a member of the Herkley B. C., have arranged to roll the second half of a home and home series of best eleven out of twenty-one games at the Riverside, One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and Seventh avenue, Saturday at 2 P. M. In the first series rolled in Brooklyn, each bowler won five games.

John Koster, of the Revere, Seventh avenue and Twenty-third street, and Billy Roderick, of the Monarch Palace, Brooklyn, will roll a home-and-home match series of best four out of seven games. The first series will be rolled at the Monarch Palace, Sunday, at 7 P. M.

The scores made by the two teams were as follows:

Watt	150	172	178	174	178	174	178	174	178	174	178

STRIKES AND SPARES.

Jimmie Watt seems to have been improving since Jimmy Smith joined the Albion staff. An average of 22 for twelve games is going some.

It's about time that Kaddisford began to get out into the field as a match game bowler. He has been very quiet this season.

When it comes down to the matter of setting in novel attractions which attract, Frank Vincent is a bowler with the goods.

Conrad B. Szwedoff has been re-elected president of the Civil Service B. C., a position held for six of the twelve years the club has been in existence. Other officers elected at the recent Tuesday evening club session on 31 Marks place are as follows: Vice-President, W. E. Lohrstedt; treasurer, John P. Fitch; recording secretary, E. McMahon; financial secretary, Gus Kahn; scorer, Henry Gerdes; captain, Carl Vogler.

After owners and club secretaries are invited to contribute scores of match games and items of bowling news to this column. Address: Bowling Editor, Evening World, Park Row, New York.

The House B. C. has organized at Elk's hall, Union avenue and One Hundred and Sixty-ninth street, Bronx, whose members on Tuesday evening club officers are: P. Tiedemann, president; Henry Acker, vice-president; W. H. Bower, secretary; Charles Seip, treasurer; Hugo Endres, captain.

200-YEAR WAR ENDED.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 30. The steamer Antiochus yesterday brought news from Singapore of the dramatic ending of Holland's 200-year-old war in South Celebes. After a siege of many months, the Hollanders captured the mountain fortress of Harau, where the rebels made their last stand. The rebel leaders, seeing that further resistance meant annihilation, surrendered with 500 men.

Winter Overcoats and Suits for Men at $15

These Fifteen Dollar winter suits and overcoats present concrete examples of the advance of modern clothes making. There is nothing abstract, nothing intangible about the claims made for their superior excellence. They indicate progression in every phase. Consider these two exclusive features only—our "Concave" shoulder and "Closefitting" collar—what a vast improvement they are over the usual way. And these two features offer the inspirational stimulus to our tailors. In the same degree as our "Concave" collar and "Closefitting" collar have been worked out to perfection, so is the style in our overcoats and suits at $15.

The overcoats at $15 are fashioned in shaped back Chesterfields of light grey fabrics, the quarter models of black Tibbet, also medium length and long models of Kersays, Melons and Vectors.

The suits at $15 take form in a series of single and double breasted models of conventional or radical styles, medium length and long coats, with deep centre vents or without vents. Fashioned of black Tibbet and fancy velvet finished Casimires in monotonous, stripes and overplaid.

GIRL CARRIED OFF TO SEA.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 30.—Within a few days a United States cruiser will probably be searching the seas off the Lower California coast for the schooner Rover and its owner, Capt. Hall. The captain is alleged to have kidnapped a young girl, Dora Bennis, of this city. Marco Bennis, her father, has received a pitiful appeal for help for his daughter. She says Capt. Hall is trying to force unwelcome attentions on her. The letter was mailed at San Quentin, in Lower California. Mayor Solan appealed to the Governor, and to-day received an encouraging reply. The Pacific squadron is dispatched, and it is said the cruiser Boston is to be sent after the Rover.

Explained by Anty Drudge.

Little Miss Rompabout—"Just look, mamma, I tore my frock."

Mother—"Good gracious, and that frock just new! Only washed twice!"

Anty Drudge—"Just those two washings made the tear possible. You boiled the frock, as you do all your clothes, and that softened and weakened its fiber. If you had used Fels-Naptha in cold or lukewarm water, the fabric would not be half rotten and ready to give away the first time it caught in anything."

White clothes are made of vegetable fibres, cotton or flax. Boiling affects them the same way it does other vegetable matter, as potatoes or cabbage. It softens them and weakens the fibre. Boiling will soften even hard wood.

By this you can easily see how your clothes will wear out quicker and tear more easily if you boil and hard-rub them. Wool, which is an animal fibre, is softened just as the fibre of meat in boiling. Fels-Naptha will cleanse your clothes in cold or lukewarm water without any boiling or hard rubbing, and there isn't a single thing in it that will harm the goods.

Your clothes will wear twice as long, and they'll be whiter and cleaner all the time. Try a cake of Fels-Naptha and see. But use it the Fels-Naptha way, according to the simple directions on the red and green wrapper. They'll tell you how to wash all kinds of clothes with Fels-Naptha; wash dishes, clean floors and do many other things with it.

Why Pay For Linen Collars And Not Get Them?

You are asked to pay 15 cents (2 for 25c.) for collars made of cotton—when the Triangle Linen Collars cost you the same price. Why shouldn't you get the best?

Triangle Linen Collars cost more to make than cotton—linen is better looking, better wearing, is worth more, than cotton. Why shouldn't you get the benefit?

If you'd only be particular to see that every collar you buy is stamped "Triangle Linen" then you'd never be deceived with cotton makes, stamped merely "High Grade," "Specially Shrinked," etc., in the hope that you'd overlook their cotton quality.

Triangle Linen Collars are genuine linen—yet cost you only 15c. (2 for 25c.) Why pay the same price for collars that are not?

Quarter sizes make your fit exact—4 ply quality and 8-thread eyelet button-holes insure longest wear and constant satisfaction. 150 styles to choose from—sold in the best stores everywhere.
